After Ozarka College president Dr. Dusty R. The tentative timeline of the search process for the next president of Ozarka College includes official job announcements in January, applications being accepted during February, screening of applications in March, interviews being conducted in April, and a final selection in May with a start date no later than July 1, 2009.

In his letter of resignation, Johnston stated “The three years that I have had the opportunity to lead Ozarka College have been extremely rewarding and very productive. I firmly believe that the board members, administration, faculty, and staff have worked in unison to continue to enhance the learning experience for the students we serve. I am certain that the employees of Ozarka College are committed to excellence and will continue to perform the necessary functions and tasks to continue to advance the institution. It has been a great pleasure to work with each individual.”

Drama Club to Host Arts Center Play

Ozarka College will host Arkansas Arts Center’s presentation of "The Ransom of Red Chief" on Thursday, February 5, 2009 at 10AM in the John E. Miller Auditorium in Melbourne. This production has been adapted for the stage by Keith Smith from the short story by O. Henry.

The plot of the story is based on characters Bill and Sam who plan a scheme. They would ride up in a horse and buggy, snatch this kid and sell him back to his old man for $2,000. Brilliant, right? Wrong.

That’s before they met little Johnny Dorset, alias Red Chief, the scoundrel of Summit, Alabama. It is side-splitting, knee-slapping, and tear-dabbing fun as these two Yankee drifters get a heapin’ helpin’ of southern hospitality at the hands of the wildest 10-year-old to ever wear feathers.

Ticket prices are $2.00. The show lasts 50 minutes plus a talk back session afterwards. Teachers, principals and bus drivers get in free! All home school and other groups; as well as anyone else in the community are encouraged to attend. Please call for make reservations as seating is limited.

Drama instructor, Judy Cannady who is coordinating this event states, "This is a great opportunity to see a professional theatre performance in our community. It is a fun story that will be enjoyed by all ages!” Please contact Cannady to make reservations at 870-994-7273, toll free 800-821-4335, or email jcannady@ozarka.edu.
Bassham Exemplifies Volunteerism

The Ozarka College Student Success Center has just begun its second year. After officially opening its doors in January of 2008, more and more students are utilizing the services that are offered. There are also more and more faculty and staff volunteering their time to help students by tutoring or conducting free workshops in the Success Center.

Student Success Specialist, Jennifer Miller has been very pleased with the students’ use of the services offered in the Success Center. The most popular service has been tutoring, but there have also been free workshops, Kuder skills assessment, career clothes closet, resume help and other services.

The Success Center expanded its services to Ash Flat by opening a second Success Center and additional staff, Success Coordinator, Richard Williams, in the new Nursing and Student Center building which opened during the Fall of 2008. More recently, a new online success center was started where Ozarka students can log on to get help through Ozarka’s online student portal, myOzarka.

The biggest success story as far as volunteerism in the Student Success Center is Math instructor, Russell Bassham. He volunteers on both the Melbourne and the Ash Flat campuses for an hour a day or longer if his students still have questions.

Miller states, "On more than one occasion I have watched him 'coach' five or six students at a time in two different subjects. I have asked his students if they find the Success Center helpful and they all agree that it is.” One student commented “Just 30 minutes with him, one on one, makes all the difference in the world.”

Bassham says the way he gets so much student participation is by advertising it frequently in class. “I always tell my students 'I'll see them in the success center'.” He also commented that he has seen a good deal of improvement in the students that take advantage of the time in the Success Center.

During the recent campus update for faculty, staff and administrators of the college, Miller and Williams, handed out appreciation awards to every person who had volunteered in the Success Center. They presented Bassham a special recognition for his outstanding service saying, "In every group, there is one person who defines excellence. In the Student Success Center that person has been Russell Bassham. His dedication to his students has not only contributed to their individual success but also to the success of the Student Success Center.”

The Success Center also welcomes community volunteers for different subject matter such as English, math, science or computers. Anyone interested in volunteering can contact Jennifer Miller at 368-7371 or jmiller@ozarka.edu.
